For safekeeping! In the Ninety Isles! Was he mad?" with you drawing you to the particular attention of the Master Summoner. "But he made no spell. He had no magic left in him. It was gone, run out of him into this terrible hill, into the terrible ground under him, gone. He was no wizard, only a man like the others, powerless. When he came home he had a three-year-old daughter with him. He turned her over to the housekeeper. "If a word can heal, a word can wound," the witch said. "If a hand can kill, a hand can cure. It's a poor cart that goes only in one direction," He had always remembered that. He remembered it now, when he looked across the hearth, winter evenings, at the dark face bent above a lore-book or a shirt that needed mending.
